

CUA51015 Diploma of Screen and Media (Mass Communication)

National ID: CUA51015 | State ID: AB40

About this course

Become part of the fast paced world of content creation

Mass Communication is a broad term encompassing multiple forms of contemporary media content and communications. It's a field which is undergoing considerable shifts. The Diploma of Mass Communication is designed for the 21st century communications landscape, where traditional media jobs that exist today may not exist tomorrow.

You will gain contemporary industry skills needed to cut through the noise and become a more effective communicator on social platforms, creating stories with unique perspectives on important topics. You will produce purposeful and relevant media content that communicates, engages, and potentially sells; applying digital marketing principles.

Training occurs through real-world projects, connecting with people and capturing their stories for multi-platform content versions.

This qualification is a clear pathway to begin your career or go on to further study to university.

Fees and charges

Local full time students

Course fees are made up of two components, tuition fees and resource fees.

Tuition fees are determined by multiplying the course fee rate by the nominal hours, which is the number of hours in which an average student could be expected to complete each unit. They are not the hours of training or instruction.

Resource fees are charges for material that are essential to a course or unit, and are purchased by NMT to be used by students during the course.

Fees may vary depending on the units you are enrolled in so an approximate amount has been shown. You will be given the exact amount of your fees at enrolment. Part time student fees will vary depending on the number of units you are enrolled in.

Please note, you may also need to buy textbooks or equipment for your course.

International Students

Check TAFE International WA to confirm this course is available to international students. You will pay your tuition fees to TIWA.

Please note, fees are subject to change.
